

Happiness is sown

The times that are coming are crucial for the whole of humanity. We will need to decide if we are serving our neighbours or making use of them. We will have to decide if we are enriching nature or still ruining it. These will be the busiest years, the fastest ones of all times. They will be as radical that a lot of changes will not be easily assimilated by people who do not know the final purpose of Time. There will be changes as accelerated and as big that there will not be any way of stopping them.

This will be the time of the biggest challenge for our minds, which will see the base of its security fall down, without any remedy. Big climate turbulences and natural phenomena will arise and this will produce the biggest changes of values on the political, social, economical and religious side of Humanity's awareness.

In the times that are coming, politicians and leaders will learn to know their weakness, as a result of Truth and Justice, which will receive most attention. Truth will have to be discerned behind a lot of costumes and Justice will be judged by herself. She will also suffer a catharsis in order to get away from her impurities. A new concept of Justice will be illuminated, and it will not be based on the intention of punishing, but on the intention of correcting. This Justice will be one more near to Love than to Revenge. For this, a new concept of Education will be also illuminated, and it will not be based on the study and imitation of the virtues of someone else, but on the harvesting of our own virtues and capacities.

The disasters produced by nature will join a lot of separated wishes. Nature will act as a tension catalyst. Outcries of Truth and Justice will spread around the entire world. All the untouchable people will be touched and they will have to give explanations directly to us.

The tension between defenders of old concepts and defenders of the new ones will be as big that their union bond will break. Yet there will not be any confrontation wherever there is education. The old dream about "Justice for everybody" will see its awakening on "Justice is all of us". The written laws will be abolished by Law that cannot be written and everybody will know the only Law that governs the Universe.

On the social field, the times that are coming will be times of proves(??) and difficulties that will mark the differences between those who give with interest and those who give without any interest. All over the world, outcries of Solidarity will spread.

By leaving nature exhausted and abandoning the neediest people, the dream of technological advance will be confronted during these years. The current self-centered and individualist awareness will expand by allowing a more global awareness, able to understand each human being as a part of the Universe and Humanity as a unity, to take place. Different parts of the same organ, organs from a same body. A body of perfection, with Strength given by Love, with the Power given by Knowledge and with Happiness given by Freedom of being as everyone is.

Unemployment will finally end because nobody wants to be unemployed when they receive respect and help for realizing their own dreams from others. Within the economical field, the times that are coming will be for Humanity a continuation to the ruin of earlier times. That is why there will be more victims between those people who give their money to speculation. The centre of the monetary/global economical power will still unify in order to survive to their own competition until there will remain only one of them who will be demolished by its own height. The power of money will fluctuate between increases and decreases, until it cannot get up anymore because of its exhaustion. Its interested heart will be what will fail.

As security is paid with money, the loss of money's values - due to the scarcity of food and raw materials, caused by the elements' anger and the governments' bad planification- will keep Security in check. Security will succumb by leaving Freedom in peace, enslaved for so much time.

This new social awareness will frame the old values again: living at the countryside, the communion with nature, the withdrawal of materialism by the search of perfection, the natural food, the interior harmony, the communitary good, the responsible cultivation of the ground, the family unity, the Love as the only legitimate strength, the Knowledge as the only legitimate power and the Freedom of being ourselves as an inviolable principle.

The concept of work will completely change. It will not be taken in account by the delivery of energy or time to a company or a government, but by our own growth, our delivery to unity, which is Humanity. For this, it will be necessary to be oneself and taking a step each day in order to look for perfection. The distance between the richest ones and the poorest ones will reach its maximum point these years and then it will break into pieces, but these pieces will join again and this time they will not make another front of competition for power and pleasure, with the richest one on one extreme and the poorest one on another extreme. The pieces will join in a cycle, so that the richest ones will walk hand in hand with the poorest ones, the wisest ones with the most naïve, and the strongest ones with the weakest ones.

Trade will finish because there is no place for it where the Truth governs with plenty of Respect, Love, Knowledge and Freedom.

The times that are coming will be the ones with the biggest impact on Humanity's religious awareness. To our surprise, it will be awareness who finds the physical evidences of the reality, God and its Love. The knowledge about the universal purpose and about what there is more further from (??) our Universe will open the door of a new dimension on the human awareness. These discoveries will produce a big religious revolution, the biggest one of all. The culture of the body, of the money and of the power will turn into the culture of the Soul, of its Light and of its Colour. The voices that announce the arrival of the end of the ends will multiply all over the world as if they are being operated by an invisible hand.

The proximity of the Apocalypse will be announced with fanfare, just like the separation between the wheat and the darnel, the resurrection of the deaths, the Final Judgment and the arrival of Jesus Christ, by waiting to be saved at the Sky. Some other people will announce the end of times, the contact with Humanities of other Universes, chaos, salvation on flying saucers, the return to the purified Earth with big gifts. As it is logic, ones and others will be stigmatized as visionary insane people, hallucinated by the Third Millennium or naïve poor people full of fake hope, but at the end the Time will prove that all of them had part of the reason.

In these times that are coming, the Judgment will be more necessary each day. Actually, all this religious matter of urgency, expressed on the practice of new rituals and fed by the heralds of the new time by making a profit, is related with a truth that they ignore, the intuition of a big change.

The truth is that the human mind is ready for a new jump in its development, a new awakening that will allow the human beings to transcend death and to see their owns gods face to face. In the same fetus before being born could ask to himself “will I have a father? Will I have a mother? Or will I be a son of this darkness that surrounds me?”, the Humanity also asks if there is any God or if we are offspring of the random. Because we do not know what there is besides our Universe.

If the evolution of the social, political and human awareness depends on us and on what we do with our free judgment in large part, the change of religious awareness will not be a product of our effort, but another legacy after having enjoyed the first one, which is life, because of having been born on this Third Dimension. What is going to happen is simple to understand for those people who know that the Universe is currentlu expanding in all directions that it is growing at a great speed like a construction that has to reach its complete development, its final perfection.

As the Universe is growing, it occupies more space for itself and its energy, which is the material of all the bodies that it contains, increases its movement and its vibration until a critical point. This criticalal point is reached when the Universe has completed its development and when the vibrant energy, which is the material contained by it, reaches the typical vibration of the Light. Then, the material has light by itself. The Human Beings will be transfigured and everything will be new in their eyes. At this point, since the miracle of our birth on this Third Dimension is produced, our Universe will be born and human awareness will awaken to this new reality of Light that is eternal. In this way, it is highly important that the Humanity is ready for this colossal event: the birth of the Universe and the Humanity on the Fourth Dimension.

PS: The Humanity is living his more crucial years, his time of maturity is already achieved. However, the Humanity resists to be given, like any ripe fruit. The freedom of will can restore the events of the Time, but cannot change it at all.

The end of the times will happen as it is related to the "The Book with Capital Letters". But we have to understand that the author of the book does not have the last word, but Father God. Only he knows the day and the hour. Only he can awaken us.

Our country has demonstrated its generosity with the need of the others and the times coming will be generous with it. The strengths of nature are not blind, no nation will avoid its lash but the Nature will be as a shrine that they can use as a shelter. All over the world, the areas that help the others most will be also the most protected ones.

Happiness is reaped as the wheat. It is crazy to expect it by not sowing it before. Happiness is sown by making the people who surround us happy. Happy new year.
